

Gloria Jean Wilson

September 5, 1937 - July 20, 2016

Gloria Jean Wilson was born to the union of James Lowell Wilson Sr. and Margaret T. Wilson in Marshall, Texas on September 5, 1937. She was the fourth of five children, Dorothy Olivia, James Jr., Edward Earl and Mona Dolores.

Gloria received her formal education through the Chicago Public Schools system. She attended and graduated from McCosh Elementary School and Dunbar High School both in Chicago, Illinois. During her high school years, Gloria was awarded a recognition for perfect attendance and a certificate for dress making.

Gloria Jean was a very warm and fun loving person. Everyone she met she brought a smile and a hearty laugh to their day. She made friends everywhere she went.

Aunt Gloria loved her music. She enjoyed all genres of music, jazz, classical, contemporary pop and blues. Two of her favorite artists were Nancy Wilson and Shirley Bassie. You could catch her sitting over in the corner with her headphones on listening to them just grooving until she would fall asleep. Aunt Gloria was an avid reader. She really enjoyed a good mystery novel and really liked to complete her crossword puzzles and word search magazines, which she was quite good at.

Gloria was a friend to all her family members including her sisters-in-law and her brother-in-law. She was the kind of person who all family members loved because of her spirit and her friendly nature. She was like a mom to her niece Adrienne (who called her, "Anie") and supported her Pioneer Ministry.

On Wednesday, July 20, 2016, Gloria Jean fell asleep in death. She was preceded in death by her parents and her four siblings.

Gloria Jean Wilson leaves to cherish her loving memories, four nieces, Mary Montgomery, Andrea Cross, Alice Colyer (Marlon) and Adrienne D. Lee; one nephew, James Lowell Wilson III (Debra); two very close friends, Gloria Cooper and a former classmate Helen Carrillo; and a host of great nieces & nephews, cousins and friends in Chicago and Texas.
