“ My heart felt condolences go out to each family member, of which I am a part of. I was hurt to learn the other day that "Diane" had made her transition. (I had to remember Kathy was her first name because that's not what I called her) I was little when I would come over to the house with my dad, Bobby Mosley, to visit. I viewed Diane as the big cousin since I was younger, so I played more with the siblings that were closer to my age. One thing I remember is, it took me the longest to realize that Diane and Cynthia were two different people, and to finally call them by their right names. But when I said the wrong name, they would just smile and correct me each time. I guess they both probably thought, when will this girl ever get my name right?!! Rest in peace cuz and I'm glad I was able to see you not long ago, and called you by your right name. (smile)
Love, Chi-Chi, or the name my Uncle Curtis called me....Boom Boom. :)
