

Mr. L. T. Clark Jr.

March 24, 1954 - May 29, 2022

The Honorable L.T. Clark Jr. was born March 24, 1954, to Gladys (Handcock) Clark and C.L. Clark in Ridgely, Tennessee.

L.T. grew up as a country boy on a farm. Growing up he was a quiet kid who often sat back and observed everything around him. Sometime in his early teens he moved to Chicago Heights, Illinois, with his father. Around age 19, L.T. joined the Marines.

After leaving the Marines he came home with a different demeanor and outlook on life. He worked in manufacturing and dedicated most of his spare time to bodybuilding.

L.T. was the age of 35 when he had his only child. At this point he found a different purpose in life, to which he dedicated every moment cementing an everlasting bond in this life and the next. In his later years, in he looked forward to a peaceful retirement and watching his grandkids grow up.

He was preceded in death by his father C.L. Clark; his sister: Laura Lee Jackson; his brother: Bobby Ray Clark; his three uncles: James Lewis Robertson, Roger Avery, and Willie Sam Avery.

He leaves to cherish his memory, his son: Maurice M Clark; his two grandchildren: Angelo Marquise Clark and Amir Maurice Clark; his mother: Gladys (Handcock) Clark; his six sisters: Francis Evon Clark, Annie Elizabeth Clark, Barbara Jean Elizalde, Linda Lou Clark, Mae Helen Brown-Gulley, and Angela Denise Guider; his three brothers: Lewis Charles Handcock, AnthonyTerrell Thomas, and Dexter Davis; his three aunts: Cora Wyatt, Margaret Pearson, and Jessie Mae Avery; his two uncles: John L. Avery and T.H. Avery; and a host of nieces and nephews, and one best friend James West.

Previous Events

Service

JUL 1. 12:00 PM (CT)

Abraham Lincoln National Cemetery
20953 West Hoff Road
Elwood, IL