“ To Marcus, Mary; parents, Glenn and Tawanda; Deidra and Tanessa (James); David, Paul and Jonathan (Brandi); grandmother Lillian; and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephew and tons of special friends and adopted family. To lose a loved one is like losing a piece of yourself. But the love "Aisha" brought you did not leave. The essence of her lingers. It can't escape your heart for it's been there so long. Cling to the memories and let them find their way to heal your heart. The love and the laughter, the joy and the togetherness you shared will make you strong. You'll come to realize that your time together no matter how long or short, you were blessed to have such a precious gift in your life. Although at this time you may feel a deep sorrow that is not easily dispelled, our God, Jehovah, the God of all comfort will help you through this time of sadness. He says: "For I, Jehovah your God, am grasping your right hand, the One saying to you, 'Do not be afraid. I myself will help you.'" - Isaiah 41:13. Let the loving and fond memories of "Aisha" engulf your hearts and minds and keep you moving forward. As the days and weeks pass, and as you return to life's routine, may you continue to feel comforted by the love and support of family and friends. “ Glenn, Tawanda, Marcus and Mary, I send my deepest sympathy for the loss of your daughter, wife and daughter-in-law, Aisha. I know how hard it is for me to wrap my mind around this, and I can't begin to comprehend what you must be going through. When I left the area, Aisha was just a little girl. I am happy to say that I had the pleasure of getting to know Aisha as a young woman. When I was able to re-introduce myself to her, she was a breath of fresh air.

She still had that infectious smile and funny, yet pleasant, sense of humor. I too miss her. These are the times that I am so glad to be a part of Jehovah's organization. An organization that has prepared us-to a great degree-on how not to allow such a tragedy to knock us off our spiritual routine. Over the past few weeks, we have been encouraged and admonished on how not to seek our own righteousness and to treat our brothers and sisters as one big family. Satan is just waiting to use this situation to make it very difficult to follow this counsel-and to make it difficult to rely implicitly on Him. My prayers are that you are granted the comfort from the scriptures; comfort from the friends; and most of all comfort from Jehovah's holy spirit. If you lean on these sources of support, you will have all you need to weather this storm. We know Jehovah sees your pain, and just as Jesus gave way to tears when Lazarus died, you can be assured that both Jehovah and Jesus are deeply hurt and saddened to see this tragedy befall your family. They are ready to act in your behalf-in just a little while. Glenn, Tawanda, Marcus and Mary-hold on! Look intently at what Jehovah has in store for you as your tears and heartache now, become tears and heartfelt joy, when you embrace Aisha in Jehovah's new world-where tears and pain will never mar your lives again. May Jehovah grant you peace and a calm heart as his consolations begin to fondle your very soul. (Psalms 94: 19)###imported-begin###Lynne Trask###imported-end##

“ dear family: to each of you i write bc i was so deeply saddend to hear abt your very tragic loss. i do not know you and i did not know aisha but i used to live in chicago a couple of years ago and have mutual friends. many of whom expressed their shock, their saddness, their grief to me. this type of loss can be devistating,paralyzing even.i can only imagine how time stopped and seemed to stand still on that awful day. as i read the beautiful words of the obituary i thought of so many sisters that i know-happy, zealous, busy in the work of the lord.involved with rbc,a dedicated wife...life should never end!its unnatural, but especially not this in this way,and at that time in her life. she was just starting, young with so much ahead of her.jehovah taught her to be happy and she was applying what He told her. please know that now Jehovah too is hurt to see her precious life cut short. he misses her! he remembers her!perfectly! better than we can bc he knew her before we did. and when he brings her back he wont miss not one detail. the fact that his memory is perfect can comfort us.sometimes people forget but not jehovah. he saw all the good that she did for him. he lost a friend too and promises her quick return. on that day i look forward to meeting her. please know that i have already included your family in my prayers.jehovah is good. he knows how hard death in general is for us. isaiah 41:8-10 jh our friend will not leave us! he will fortify us!he will really help us!stay close to him so he can fulfill his promises for you.###imported-begin##audrian rene dixon##imported-end##

“ Dear Brother and Sister Nettles, Tanessa, Paul, Jonathan, David, Brandi, James, Marcus, and all the Boone Family and Relatives, I want to say that I love you all so much, and you will continue to be in my prayers. Being in high school with Tanessa and Aisha was soooooo encouraging to me. Starting off as a freshman at CHSAS high school, Aisha and I along with Jarah Braswell were all freshman together. We had the support of Tanessa, and Sarah Braswell who were seniors looking out for us and this helped us soooooo much. I only have one brother as a sibling, but I felt like the girls looked out for me just like their own sister...well because we are sisters! It was so helpful to be in high school with them as we all were able to strengthen each other's faith by example. By the the end of our Sophomore year, Aisha and I decided to transfer to Jones High School. This was a big move for us to leave a neighborhood area small high school like CHSAS and go to Jones on State street in downtown Chicago. Aisha was such a good student and a good Witness for Jehovah. I remember when she hurt her ankle and had to be on crutches for a while, she still came to class on crutches! She never let any obstacles deter her!!! I have loved growing up in the same circuit with you all, and seeing you all at assemblies and events over the years. When I was almost 22, I moved away but Aisha and Tanessa were always the type of friends that no matter how long we had not seen each other, we could just pick right back up. Getting through teenage years together in the Truth, and encouraging each other in high school makes a strong bond and understanding between us. I look so forward to greeting Aisha back to life with open arms. This situation emphasizes even moreso the need to stay so focused and positive and determined in our service to Jehovah as we help others to learn of the beautiful hope we hold dear to our hearts. I love you all, and always will! Your sister, Sherry Inez Smith (Psalm 27:4, Isaiah 41:10, 13) ##imported-begin## Sherry I Smith ##imported-end##

“ How much our family has been greiving ever since we heard the shocking news of Aisha's tragic death. Words cannot express just how we have longed to be with the family of Aisha's, to be able to somehow show our very deep concern for the welfare of the entire family, which we have come to know through Tanessa, whom we met while doing a tour of the Paterson Educational Centre of the Watchtower in June 2001.Even though we live a half a world away, we feel very close spiritually to our entended family in Chicago, who are often in our thoughts. Our daughter Dannielle had the pleasure of meeting Aisha when she travelled to Chicago from Australia to Attend Tanessa and James Wedding and was made so welcome by the whole family and spending time with Aisha prior to Tanessa's wedding. We send our warm christian Love to the Whole family and Friends, and how much we wish we were there to be able to give you hugs and hold your hands while you are crying for your incredible grief of losing a dear very loved on in death. “ Our deepest condolences and sympathy for your great loss. We did not know Aisha but are friends of Mary Boone, hence Marcus. May Jehovah continue to hold you and your family and the Nettles and Anderson family (Tanessa). We did not know Aisha personally, but we do look forward to being there with you when welcome her back in the very near future. May you stay focused and stay close to Jehovah, your congregation and Jehovah's organization to get you through this most difficult time. Our prayers are with you constantly.##imported-begin##David and LaDonna Jenkins##imported-end##

“ Dear family, I didn't get to see your family grown up. In fact I only remember your Aisha, because she is the same age as my daughter. I'm so grateful that you all have a strong love for Jehovah God, and his word the Bible. Rev. 21:4 we know the hope in store for your daughter. I'm so proud of her efforts during her life as a loyal young woman. Truly she will be missed by you all! I will continue to pray for you and your family, that Jehovah God will give you strength beyond whats normal. With love, your friend Rosalind Keith-Batavia Cong. formerly from Roseland 1972-1985##imported-begin##Rosalind Keith##imported-end##

“ I just wanted to let the family know that my heart goes out to all of Aisha family and friends. I didn't know Aisha personally, but since we all serve the same God, Jehovah and we're all related spiritually. I know how difficult it is to loose someone to death that you love. So I just wanted to let the family know that you all will be in our prayers and how grateful we are to know Jehovah and know that soon death will be no more and we look forward to the resurrection. I no that Jehovah will help you get through this difficult time.##imported-begin##Vernon & Raquel Williams##imported-end##

“ Even though I didn't know her. It still pains me to hear about this. keep in mind Rev 21:4 "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away." And Isa 25:8Jehovah will actually swallow up death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will certainly wipe the tears from all faces. My heart and prayers are there for your family.###imported-begin###Krystal Turner###imported-end##
