

Ayodele Victo Adekoya

June 22, 1955 - April 2, 2014

Ayodele Victor Adekoya was born on the 22nd of June 1955 in Ibadan, Nigeria to Mr. Ibukun and Mrs. Taiwo Adekoya.

He completed his higher education in Lagos, Nigeria and worked for Nigerian Airways until he migrated to the United States in the late 80s. Upon arrival in the States, he settled in Chicago where he decided to enroll in computer school. In 2009, he decided to start a career in nursing and enrolled in nursing school where he graduated with an LPN degree in 2012. Until his passing, he practiced with his Nursing degree at different hospitals and nursing homes.

Ayo, as he was fondly known, was a fun loving, reliable, easy going man and a free spirit. He enjoyed listening to gospel music, feeding the needy and just spending time talking with his loved ones. He was very reliable and well loved by those who knew him. Ayo was never one to get into an argument or have extended quarrels; he always looked for every opportunity to make peace. He believed solely in the almighty God and as such was a very devoted member of the Celestial Church of Christ St. Michael Parish Chicago.

On April 2nd 2014, Ayo fell asleep in death in his home in South Holland, IL. He was preceded in death by his father, Mr. Ibukun and Mrs. Taiwo Adekoya.

He leaves to cherish his memory and continue his legacy, his wife, Onayemi

Adekoya; four children: Christopher Adekoya, Olaitan Bakare, Justin Adekoya and Kehinde Adekoya; one son-in-law: Kolade Bakare; one daughter-in-law: Kierra Adekoya; brothers, sisters and a host of other relatives and friends.

“ My heart goes out to your family for your loss. Upon reading the obituary something that really caught my eye is how death was referred to as "fallen asleep". This is really how Jesus described it in the Bible. May you find comfort in knowing God longs to awaken those who have fell asleep, and reunite them with their families. (Acts 24:15) As we all long for this time and the fulfillment of (Revelation 21:3,4), may you find peace in your memories and in the support of your family.
