

Charles Jerry Ennols

March 1, 1950 - February 4, 2014

Charles Jerry Ennols was born on March 1, 1950 to Elijah Charles and Jeraldine Ennols. He believed in doing good to others and said his blessings came from God so he tried to be a brother to all who knew him.

He served in the Marine Corp, went to Vietnam and thanked God he returned home safely.

Charles also had a comedian side to him. He loved to laugh and to make others laugh. Telling jokes was something he loved to do; if he could get you to laugh he felt he had brightened your day.

He was also a very compassionate man. Charles worked as a patient transporter at Northwestern Memorial Hospital for 17 years. Transporting patients from test to test he listened compassionately when they spoke about their concerns and his heart went out to them. Charles was awarded as one of Northwestern's finest employees and received many letters of appreciation from patients.

Charles loved helping people and would share his years of experience with all he could. He also loved music; Bobby Womack was his favorite artist.

Charles was preceded in death by his father, Elijah; mother, Jeraldine; and son, Charles Jerry Jr.

He leaves to cherish his memories, two sisters, Judy (Elisha) and Diane (Doyle); two nieces, Lavetta (Rupert) and Della; great nieces, Gabrielle and Unique; great nephews, Bray and Michael and a host of wonderful friends.

“ I am so sorry about the death of your dear loved one. Death was never part of Almighty God's original purpose. However, he promised at John 5:28&29, that the hour is coming when all those asleep in the memorial tombs will be awoken. Yes, the resurrection is a sure reality that will take place here on a peaceful earth. (Psalm 37:11)
