

Charles Scott Turner

June 22, 1968 - December 27, 2012

Charles Scott Turner, the fourth child of five, was born in Chicago, Illinois on June 22, 1968 to the union of Charles and Julia Turner.

Scott graduated from Martin High School in Arlington, Texas. Upon graduation from high school, he was selected as a Congressional Scholar by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council from which he received the Youth Leadership award and attended the organization's conference in Washington, DC that summer.

Scott received his Bachelor of Science in International Economics and Finance from Texas Tech University in 1996. Immediately after graduation he relocated to Chicago, Illinois where he worked at several brokerage firms, first as a broker and later as a financial advisor. On his first attempt he passed the Series 7 Exam.

Scott was passionate about economic theory and politics of which he would have intense conversations with friends and family. His capacity to make everyone he met feel as if they were not strangers but important long time friends was a reflection of his good character, grace and kindness.

Scott had a deep love for his heavenly Father and was an active member of Grace Baptist Church.

On Thursday, December 27, 2012, Charles Scott Turner made his transition.

Scott leaves to cherish his memory, his parents, Julia Turner, Charles Turner and Dorothy Holley-Turner; four siblings, Laura Boggus, Leslie Boggus-McCall (James), Lawrence Boggus and Camille Turner-Vega (Alex); one aunt, Eileen Williams; two uncles, James Stewart (Daisy) and Leonard Stewart (Betty); one niece; six nephews; and a host of cousins and friends, including three of his very closest and oldest friends, Robert Kilmer, Robert Shirley and Michael Wilkins.
