

Daniel Davenport

April 22, 1943 - January 26, 2014

"A Brother, A Father, A Uncle"

Daniel Davenport was born to the union of Robert Lee and Elizabeth Davenport. His childhood was spent on the Southside of Chicago. He was blessed to have 7 sisters. He considered himself the "The King", "The Favorite", and, "The Only One". His sisters adored him.

"Danny Boy" as he was known to friends and family loved reading books especially novels. Danny was not one that said a lot, he listened, reflected and then either said something that was either funny or that made you think. He was known amongst his friends for listening to his favorite Jazz Artist and having a quick wit, and his one-liners.

Daniel married Arlene and they were blessed with two sons, Daniel Davenport II "Lil Danny" and Kenneth Davenport "Kenny".

His love of children led him Danny move to South Bend, Indiana, where he furthered his education obtaining his professional license in 2000 in IUSB for child care. He lived in South Bend for over 23 years providing support and love to his extended family.

Several months ago Danny lost his sight but not his zest for life, his wit, his humor and especially not his big brother status.

On Sunday, January 26, 2014, Danny fell asleep in death. He was preceded in death by his parents, Robert Lee and Elizabeth; sisters, Valerie Cobb-Greene and Robin Davenport; niece, Angela Hollingsworth; and grandchildren, Kenneth Davenport II and Maurice Davenport.

Danny leaves to cherish his memory and continue his legacy, his loving and devoted son, Daniel J. (Miyoka) Davenport; 2 sons, Kenneth and Patrick; 1 brother, Robert Lee Davenport; sisters, Roberta, Janet, Elizabeth "Lil Liz", Sherry (Prince), Denise (Walter), Jacqueline (Issac), Diane and Audrey aka Cookie; 14 grandchildren; 17 great grandchildren; and a host of other relatives and friends too numerous to mention.
