

Georgia Mae Walker

February 28, 1932 - June 25, 2013

Georgia Mae Walker was born on February 28, 1932 to George and Mary McGhee in Montgomery, Alabama. She was the second of eleven siblings and therefore quickly learned the qualities that would make her an exceptional wife and mother.

In 1952 she met the love of her life, Benjamin Walker Sr. and to this union were added 7 children.

In 1960, Georgia made the most important decision of her life along with her husband, she symbolized her dedication to Jehovah by water baptism and remained a faithful servant for over 50 years. As a witness of Jehovah, she loved telling others about the God she served. So much so that after her children got older she became a full time minister for many years. Among the many qualities she possessed, she will be remembered for her industriousness, generosity, strong will, ability to teach others and her zeal for the truth.

We cannot forget Georgia's awesome southern cooking skills as she was often sought out for her macaroni & cheese and peach cobbler. Because of her caring compassion for others she was a spiritual mother to many. Over the years she was affectionately known as "Mama Walker".

On June 25, 2013, Georgia fell asleep in death. She was preceded in death by her parents, six siblings and son, Benjamin Walker Jr.

Georgia leaves to cherish her memory, her devoted husband of 61 years Benjamin Walker Sr.; six children, Gwendolyn Morton, Christina Cork, Lawrence Reginald (Romalda) Walker, Cassandra Renee Williams, LaTanya (Ocie) Whitt and Shawn (Dana) Walker; five grandchildren, Toni (Cedrick) Peyton, Brandon Cork, Stephanie Walker, Brittany Walker and Kayley Walker; three sisters, Carrie (Joseph) Reynolds, Bertha Minniefield and Lue Ella Milling; one brother, Leon (Barbara) McGhee; and a host of great grandchildren, nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and friends.
