

Gloria Johnson

October 9, 2014

Gloria Johnson was born in Anniston, Alabama on the month of September, the year of 1962. She was raised by her parents, Talmadge and Bobbie Slaughter along with her brother and sister. She was the second of three children.

Gloria and her parents moved to Chicago, Illinois in 1963, and she resided there throughout the course of her life. She received her education at Corliss High School, where she received the nickname "Eyes" because her classmates thought she had big beautiful eyes.

Later in life she married in 1992 and had two children, Mariah and Ryan Johnson. Gloria spent her entire adult life being a very loving mother and a hard-worker. She worked as a supervisor for Bank Of America and was employed at Matteson Elementary School.

Gloria dedicated her life to Jehovah and symbolized her dedication through water baptism becoming one of Jehovah's Witnesses and part of a warm Christian brotherhood. She was very zealous for the ministry. Everywhere she went she preached, whether informally or door to door. She was very upbuilding and encouraging and everyone wanted to work with her in the ministry. Her spiritual goal after her surgery was to join the pioneer ranks again!

Gloria was the life of the party! She lit up the room just with her presence! She always cracked jokes, without smiling. She would even give you that look and you couldn't help but embrace her warm personality. One thing she loved to do was to shop; she loved purses and shoes.

As of October 9, 2014, Gloria's spirit now rest in Jehovah's memory. She was preceded in death by her nephew, Daniel Dennard.

Gloria leaves to cherish her memories, two children, Mariah Johnson and Ryan Johnson; two loving parents, Talmadge Slaughter and Bobbie Slaughter; one sister, Winnie Redd; one brother, Victor Slaughter; and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, spiritual brothers, sisters and friends.
