

Hattie Smith

April 1, 1914 - March 29, 2014

Hattie Smith was born April 1, 1914 in Brownsville, Tennessee, the daughter of James and Laura Taylor.

Hattie united in holy wedlock to Mr. Edward Smith in 1960 in Chicago, Illinois.

After a study of God's word the Bible, Hattie dedicated her life to Jehovah and on July 29, 1973, she symbolized her dedication through water baptism becoming one of Jehovah's Witnesses. She went forth preaching and teaching the good news about God's Kingdom. She remained a loyal and faithful servant of Jehovah for over 40 years.

On March 29, 2014, Hattie fell asleep in death at St. James Hospital in Chicago Heights, IL. Preceding her in death were her mother, Laura; her father, James; her husband, Edward; her brother James Taylor and her sister, Jean Young.

Hattie leaves to cherish her memory and continue her legacy, two daughters, Patricia Bajorinas and Janese Sample; son-in-law, Norman Bajorinas; two granddaughters, Sasha and Shannon Bajorinas; one grandson, Phillip Sample; and a host of other relatives and friends.

“ My condolences to the Smith family may you be comforted with God's view of your love one. At Psalm 116:15, he views her as being precious to Him. May you all draw closer to Him and be comforted from His promises of a resurrection. John 5:28-29
