

Louvenia Braxton-Ferguson

September 6, 1963 - November 15, 2014

Louvenia Braxton-Ferguson was born on September 6, 1963 in Chicago, Illinois to the union of Chris and Magnolia Leason.

She received her formal education in Chicago, Illinois graduating from Westinghouse High School and then continuing on to Malcolm X College specializing in health care.

Louvenia was the life of the party, she enjoyed dancing and telling jokes. She was nicknamed "Pig", short for "Please, I'm eating and cooking". She enjoyed the look, taste and smell of food, but mostly she enjoyed sharing a good meal with her family and friends. People loved to be around Pig because of her warm and loving personality. She could tell a story like no one else and dare you to tell it better.

Louvenia loved God and enjoyed studying about him through reading her Bible and attending her church.

Louvenia was blessed to have one son, Tommy Lee Braxton. She loved being mom and grandmother. She was further blessed to meet and marry Michael Ferguson.

On November 15, 2014, Louvenia fell asleep in death. She was preceded in death by her mother, father and siblings Eddie aka "Jr." and Roosevelt aka "Ham".

Louvenia will be deeply missed by her loving husband, Michael; son, Tommy Lee; siblings, Laddie aka "Lady B" Leason and Dorothy aka "Cookie" (Ronnie) Marsh; grandchildren, Tommy Jr. and Treasure; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends too numerous to mention.
