Martin "Bunty" Sanders was born to the union of Robert Sanders and Elizabeth Sanders (Neal) on May 2, 1958 in Chicago, Illinois. He was the youngest son of 7 children.

Bunty, as most knew him by, attended John Foster Dulles Elementary school, Betsy Ross Middle School and graduated 3rd in his class of 525 students at Paul Laurence Dunbar Vocational High School, class of '76.

At a young age, Bunty was very taken with all things music. He became proficient in many instruments from piano and keyboard, to saxophone and flutes. Bunty was a true entrepreneur, owning his own record company, recording for artists, and running a CD & DVD production company as well as T-shirt printing for a plethora of Chicagoland artists.

Technology was also a talent of Bunty's. He carried the ability to build computers from scratch, website creating, graphic editing and design. He even authored and co-illustrated a comic book.
