

Patricia Ann McElroy

November 16, 1948 - September 12, 2014

Patricia Ann Clark, affectionately called "Patsy", was born November 16, 1948 into a very close family.

She attended Douglas Elementary School, Dunbar Vocational High School and completing her secular educational journey at Loop Junior College. She began her working career at Michael Reese Hospital and moved on to work and retire from AT & T after 31 years of employment.

Through the years she maintained a close relationship with her family caring for her mother Annie H. Clark, until she died. Shortly thereafter, she met and married Stephen McElroy, and then she took care of him.

Patsy's love of knowledge was seen in her continuous and intensive search for truth. The results were her qualifying for baptism as one of Jehovah's Christian Witnesses in 1976, however it didn't stop there. The truth's effects could be seen in her composure in battling cancer with numerous crippling complications and facing death on several occasions. In caring for Pat a "please and thank you" were never off her lips and a complaint was never heard. In all of this, she "never sinned with her lips." (Job 2:10) It was a joy to care for her.

Pat thoroughly enjoyed the preaching work, and participated as often as she could in it. She volunteered for various activities at the Kingdom Hall. She loved and fully supported her husband in all of his Theocratic assignments.

Pat leaves to cherish her memory, her uncle, Johnny Clark, whom she was very close to; her husband, Stephen J. McElroy; step-children, Jason and Jennifer McElroy; a very close dear friend, LoJuana Stephens; her Avalon Park family; and a host of relatives and friends.

“ I'd like to share a few comforting Bible Scriptures that helped me when I lost both my husband and son, June of last year. Please read Eccl. 9:5,6 and 10, Rom 5:17-19 and if interested, another comforting scripture at Ezek. 37:12-14.
