

Ms. Sharron Anthony

January 6, 1947 - August 22, 2021

Sharron Anthony was born January 6, 1947 in Chicago, Illinois.

She graduated from Harlan High School, where she also attended the Licensed Practical Nursing program. Her father tried to convince her to become an RN, was even willing to pay for the extra schooling, but she declined. By then, she had come in contact with Jehovah's Witnesses and wanted to pursue a life-saving career of preaching the good news of God's kingdom. She studied the Bible and soon dedicated her life to Jehovah and got baptized April 14, 1974.

It wasn't long before Sharron's love for Jehovah and for people moved her to do more in his service. She began full time pioneer service in December of 1976 and never stopped, spending 45 years helping people learn about Jehovah, and assisting several students to make the truth their own. To support herself, she worked at various hospitals on Chicago's south side, including Michael Reese, Mercy, Doctor's Hospital, South Shore, and LaRabida Children's Hospital, where she eventually retired.

Sharron was zealous for the preaching work and was always excited for a new service year. She would meticulously plan her schedule and share it with her friends. And of course, she would always look for partners to work with from various congregations. Her zealous spirit was contagious, and she always found someone to work with morning, afternoon and evening.

While Sharron may not have had any blood relatives that shared her faith, she was truly an example of what is stated in Mark 10:29, 30. She was blessed with a huge spiritual family of brothers, sisters, children, and grandchildren. She also had the privilege of attending pioneer service school several times and was blessed to be able to attend International and Special Conventions in Frankfurt Germany, San Juan Puerto Rico, and Mexico City Mexico.

Even when she was not in the field ministry, she was still always on the go. She loved going to the zoo, spending time with her “children,” and she loved to shop. She may not have been rich, but she still liked to splurge every so often - especially on purses, shoes and jewelry. She also travelled whenever she could to see her friends in the Dominican Republic, Missouri, Georgia, and other places.

Her parents, as well as her sister preceded her in death. Left to cherish her memories are all of those who make up her spiritual family and friends, who look forward to seeing her again in paradise.

“ The moon is a faithful witness in the sky and Sharron was a faithful witness on the earth. You could count on her. She was the most tenacious pioneer when it came to getting her hours. She always had a plan b and c in case her original plan fell through. She along with sis Pat Thornton would always help other pioneers and auxiliary pioneers get their hours even when they had made theirs. She was also balanced and made spiritual activities a priority but also made time for recreation. She was very supportive of the elders including myself even when I was newly appointed and even though she had known me from my early teen years. I'm very glad to have been one of her friends whom she would periodically call to check on. And I'm glad I was able to do whatever I could for her over the years and learn from her faithful example. She will be missed. J McGee

“ I loved her youthfulness, she was drawn to young people. In a sense she was like a spiritual mentor, if you were paying attention. Admired how she put spiritual things first, was always encouraging and forgiving. She was very discerning of those who needed help and didn't make it uncomfortable. She truly did her best in following in Jesus' footsteps.

“ Sharron was one of the “Older Women Reverent in Behavior” as mentioned in the Scriptures. She set a good example and taught me how to be a Spiritual, Faithful, Enduring, Disciplined, and Loyal Christian Woman. She Loved Jehovah, and was an indefatigable Pioneer! Engaging in the Most Important Work, Preaching the Good News of God’s Kingdom. Sharron used to said that I was one of her Spiritual Daughters. Though I was happy to be viewed that way, I always felt that she was, and looked much too young to be such. I value her also, how for many years, I had been misspelling her name, but just last year, in a diplomatic, and tactful way she corrected me.

Thank You Sharron. The Better Resurrection Truly Awaits You!

“ I spoke with Sharron a few days before she went to sleep. She was studying her Watchtower. She was very spiritually focused. Each service year she had a service schedule and personal study schedule. She enjoyed life. She loved good food and loved to travel. I will miss her bright smile. Modern day woman of faith!
