

Therous Davis

September 18, 1928 - August 5, 2013

Therous Davis was born to Eddie and Odether Davis on September 18, 1928 in Madison, Illinois. He moved to Chicago where he met and married Katherine Davis on May 29, 1954. Together they raised five children.

By those who knew him well he was called “Digga” or “Dave” because his first name was so hard to pronounce or remember. He was always very hospitable and he loved to barbeque sharing it with anyone who was around.

On August 5, 2013, Therous Davis departed this life. He was preceded in death by his parents, Eddie and Odether Davis; his wife, Katherine Davis; and three children, Vanessa, Glen and Kim.

He leaves to cherish his memory: children, Lorraine (Royal) and Lori (Christopher); grandchildren, Dionna (Demetrius), Jason (Yvonne), Kristen, Christopher, Jr., Therous and Thea; great grandchildren, Katherine, Jai and Kimberly; and a host of loving relatives and friends.

Acts 24:15 ---- “I have hope toward God, which hope these men themselves also entertain, that there is going to be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous”.

Tribute Wall

“ Therous Davis

October 04, 2023 at 06:11 PM

“ Romans 5:12 That is why, just as through one man sin entered into the world and death through sin, and thus death spread to all men because they had all sinned--.
Someone who cares,

Gail McGrew - August 20, 2013 at 11:20 AM